Planners Receive Map Of Land Use

Yesterday, Carmel planners received from Planning Director Floyd Adams the new map of land use-development-occupancy in the commercial district of Carmel and heard his report on its purpose, scope and applications. The commission unanimously approved a resolution to recommend adoption of the map to the city council, with the further suggestion that it be updated at least semi-annually and that the council request the cooperation of all city departments in supplying necessary information.

Chairman Dorothy von Meier appointed Bernard Laiolo and herself as an ad hoc committee to meet with city council members in considering the updating of the 1963 study and report on the city's capital outlay and acquisition program.

Acting as a board of adjustments, the commission referred to the land use committee for report Leslie C. Fenton's request to permit provision of on-site parking on the west side of Mission between Ocean and Seventh; recommended approval of W. D. Spruance's request to establish two building sites on the east side of Lincoln between Third and Fourth.

In other action yesterday, planning commissioners approved the following requests: Jack Theis, renewal of approved plans, for 180 days, for a motel at the corner of San Carlos and Third; Carmel Drug Store, repainting of stonework on front walls; Castle in Carmel, new awnings.

Requests for signs were accepted from Cliff Phelps (Singapore Sam); Dorothea Roberts (Casa Dolores); Art E. Baudin (Jolly Roger); Glenn F. Terry (Carmel Stamp & Coin); John Gamble (Junipero Professional Building).

If You Can't Beat Them, Join Them

BY ALLMAN COOK

If you can't beat them, join them.

As we consider the activities of trucks in Carmel and on the highways, one is impressed with the influence the truck transportation industry must carry when decisions are made by law making and regulation agencies. On the highway we see trucks belching black clouds from their deisel exhaust pipes when passenger cars are being required to install smog control devices. In Carmel we see continual examples of discourtesy on the part of truck drivers double parking near the center of the street, double parking almost adjacent to another truck facing the other way, double parking in front of an open parking place that could be used by a passenger car. Apparently trucks just don't have to consider courtesy or the normal laws applying to mere passenger cars. Apparently they are just too big and powerful for you and me and our law makers. Apparently we just can't enforce their courteous consideration for the rest of humanity and passenger car drivers.

In view of the foregoing, why don't we try to live with the trucks in Carmel? As I wrote two weeks ago, a great deal of order can be restored to traffic conditions through the use of one-way streets. This has been proven in communities throughout our country.

Again, your Pine Cone recommends one-way streets on Mission, San Carlos, Dolores, Lincoln and Monte Verde between Fourth and Ninth. If we try to do more than this at this time, such as trying to close Ocean Avenue to any vehicles it will just bring in too much opposition.

How do you feel about this? Let us hear from you.

CARMEL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Restore All Bus Routes

School bus routes eliminated as an economy measure this Spring were reinstated by unanimous action of the board of education of the Carmel Unified School District last night. The action came as the result of a transportation report given by the new superintendent of the district, Dr. Harris Taylor. He also gained board approval of a proposal to place library facilities at Carmel High School in two locations and a request for eight shortened school days during the coming academic year. An interdistrict attendance request was denied by the board.

Dr. Harris reported that a detailed feasibility study and cost analysis of the pupil transportation program by the district's new business manager, Walter Hinton, had indicated that it was possible to reinstate last year's school bus routes at an additional cost of approximately $4,200 over the amount allocated in the current school budget.

"Mr. Hinton and I are positive that this sum can be made available through other economies. It is my impression that the board did not realize that most of the cost for maintaining a schedule similar to last year would be handled by the amount already allocated for supporting the 1966-67 transportation schedule. I am sure that the

Fall And Winter Plays At Studio

Following the closing of its summer season with the final performance of "The Fantasticks" on September 4, the Studio Theatre & Restaurant in Carmel will open its fall and winter season on September 8, with the comedy "Never Too Late." Thereafter, the Studio will produce "The Little Foxes," a revival of the Lillian Hellman drama; "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum," the musical that ran for nearly 1,000 performances on Broadway a few seasons ago; "Catch Me If You Can," a mystery with a double surprise ending; "Arsenic And Old Lace," which has not been seen here in some years; and "Barefoot In The Park," if it is released during the coming season. The shows will be produced at intervals of six to seven weeks and will be offered on weekends from September through June.

Next summer the Studio will produce "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying" as one of two shows which will alternate during July and August. The second is still to be selected.

Michael Keller, resident director of the Studio, in announcing the forthcoming schedule, said that shows could be subject to change depending upon unforseen production problems. He also invited an expression of interest in occasional Sunday matinee for the convenience of playgoers who prefer not to be out at night.

During the fall and winter season, the Studio will be open daily except Monday for luncheon and on weekends will offer patrons a choice of dinner and theatre or theatre only.

Record crowds for the scheduled final performance of "Beyond the Fringe" last week at White Oaks Theatre have warranted the play's being held over for one more presentation on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

Signal Honor For Dr. W. F. Coughlin

A signal honor has been bestowed on Dr. William Coughlin of the Carmel Lions Club. He has been awarded a life membership by Lions International. The outstanding nature of this honor is attested by the fact that out of 800,000 members in 21,000 clubs in 135 countries and geographical areas only 200 life memberships have been awarded since Lionism was founded in 1917.

Dr. Coughlin joined the Carmel Lions Club in 1946. He has held every office, including the presidency, of the local club. In the district, he has been zone chairman, deputy district governor and 1957-58 governor. He has served also on several district committees including being chairman of the district advisory committee. He is now an international counselor.

Many awards have been given Dr. Coughlin for meritorious service. One of these was the 100% Governor's Award. He has also received the Extension Award, the "Key" Award for bringing in new members and maintained 100% attendance for over 20 years.

Fellow members of the Carmel Lions Club recommended Dr. Coughlin to the International Association of Lions Clubs for the life membership. This high honor was accorded him at the last meeting of the board of directors of Lions International with a notation, signed by Dr. Walter Campbell, Lions International president. Local presentation of the award was made by Anthony August of the Carmel Lions Club, also an international counselor. Carmel Lions are justly proud of the honor reflected upon them. Dr. Coughlin and his wife, Lillian, moved to Carmel in 1938. He has maintained a general medical practice here since that time, except for five years in military service.

Carmel Valley Shopping Center Nearly Finished

The new $2 million Carmel Valley Shopping Center is taking form, according to the developers of the project on the Carmel Valley Road west of the Farm Center, George M. Clemens, Norman J. Craft and Paul E. Porter.

Parking area concrete curbing is now completed, including retaining walls for planter beds and paving of the entire parking area can now proceed.

Every effort has been made by the developers to insure structures will be harmonious with the characteristic warm color and horizontal flow of the Valley terrain.

Designed by a Carmel architect, Olof Dahlstrand, the cluster of low buildings features precast adobe colored concrete wall panels and columned arcades topped with shake roof to blend with the natural beauty of the Valley. Construction of the center's Standard Oil station is expected to be completed around October 1. The Valley Cinema, which will be associated with the Hill and Steinbeck theatres, is nearing completion and will be opened in early November. Fixtures and equipment are being installed in the Safeway store located at the new shopping center and an early October opening of these premises is expected.

Steinmetz Pharmacy also will be a center tenant.

Crocker Citizens National Bank has leased space in the center for its seventh bank in Monterey County. Also designed by Mr. Dahlstrand, it will be of stucco with redwood panel trim and shake roof. The interior will have eight teller windows, a full vault and safe-deposit facilities. A drive-up window will be located on the Carmel Valley Road side of the structure. Construction will start soon with completion expected early in 1967.

LINES FROM THE STUDIO

We wish this column had enough space to pay individual tribute to each of the two dozen actors and actresses who have made our 1966 summer musicals possible. Suffice it to say that collectively their talents are extraordinary, their devotion exemplary and their stamina beyond belief. "The Pajama Game" is history (thanks Lois, Sam, Carolyn, Tom, Lynnea, John et al.), but there is still time before Labor Day to see "The Fantasticks." Any night but Monday, with or without partaking of our excellent dinner. $5.50 with, $2.75 without. Thus far last week's query about occasional Sunday matinees this fall has been greeted with stony silence. Shall we ask again or assume nobody is interested? A quandary!

City Tax Rate Set At $1.30

Last Thursday, the city council gave first reading to an ordinance adopting the 1966-67 budget of $1,207,162 and set the tax rate for this year at $1.30 per $100 assessed property valuation. Second reading and adoption of the ordinance will take place this afternoon.

The 1966-67 tax is divided as follows: general municipal expenses, $0.532; capital outlay expenses, $0.175; retirement system expenses, $0.221; Harrison Memorial Library, $0.372.

City expenses during 1966-67 include salaries, $354,729; allowances and awards, $22,740; travel and personal expenses, $4,867; dues and memberships, $460; services, $30,363; utilities, $9,599; telephone and telegraph, $3,615; maintenance and repair—operating, $7,362; materials and supplies — operating, $19,834; maintenance and repair—plant, $13,918; materials and supplies—plant, $28,869; gasoline and lubricants, $5,772; postage and shipping, $710; printing, $3,773; publishing, $1,300; documents and publications, $1,301; rentals and leases—equipment, $11,090; rentals and leases—property, $1,680; unsegregated, $600. These are all day to day operation and housekeeping expenses. Other general fund costs are non-departmental activities $19,205, and insurance, $38,621.

Additional city expenses are retirement fund, $49,230; Sunset Center bond fund, $32,255; capital outlay fund, $471,346; Harrison Memorial Library, $73,963. However, the Sunset bond fund and $417,152 of the capital outlay expense does not apply to the tax rate. This money is provided by hostelry tax.

The $1.30 city tax rate is the same as the rate prevailing in 1928-29 and 1929-30.

The first time the city levied a tax after incorporation was for the year 1917-18 and the rate was $1. The same tax prevailed for the first five years Carmel was a city, then jumped to $1.20 for the next two years. Starting in 1924-25, except for the two years it was $1.30, the tax rate varied between $1.05 and $1.16 until 1938-39 when it jumped to $1.25 for two years.

In 1940-41, Carmel hit the highest tax rate in its history, $1.63. The next two years it was $1.32, then sank to $1.25 in 1943-44. The following two years, the tax rate returned to $1, rose to $1.15 then in 1947-48 went down to 92 cents, back up to $1.10 in 1948-49, sank to 80 cents in 1949-50, rose to $1.10 the next year, $1.05 the following year. In 1954-55 the city levy was 82 cents: 1955-56, 77 cents. The next year the rate rose to $1 again and two cents more were added in 1957-58. The next three years saw the tax vary from 94½ cents to 96 cents to $1.17.

A sharp drop to 81 cents came in 1961-62. The next year it was 84 cents and the next 94½ cents.

In 1964-65 the tax rose to $1.06, then $1.28 last year with two cents added this year.

Low points in the tax rate, usually, were associated with city administrations which overlooked the requirement to accumulate funds for capital outlay purposes. The result was a following sharp rise when the need for capital outlay items became acute. In the past several years, the city council and administration have followed a policy of providing funds for unexpected and future capital outlay expenses, thus increasing, but stabilizing, the tax rate.

Susan Is Mrs. Doyle Clayton

Susan Elizabeth Segali, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Segali of Monterey, and Doyle Jack Clayton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clayton of Carmel, were married Saturday at the Monterey First Presbyterian Church, which was decorated for the occasion with white stock and gladioli and Bells of Ireland. The Reverend Elmer Roy read the early afternoon ceremony.

In addition to traditional music, selected solos were sung by Elizabeth Van Loben Sels, a sorority sister of the bride.

Susan, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a princess style gown, the bodice and three-quarter length sleeves of white Belgian lace and the A-shape skirt of heavy white faille. A split train of the same material, bordered in Belgian lace, fell from the edge of the bodice. Susan's shoulder-length illusion veil was held by a crown of pearlized orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Carolyn Mountford of Monterey was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Phyllis Clayton, sister of the bridegroom, Sandy Segali of San Bruno, the bride's cousin, and Barbara Passavant of Long Beach. They were clad alike in full-length dresses of light olive green peau de soie, styled with matching overblouses of olive Belgian lace. Crowns of tiny, olive green flowers held the veils which covered their hair and each carried a cascade arrangement of Bells of Ireland, lemon carnations and tropicana roses.

Toby Edson of Carmel served as best man. Seating the guests were the bride's brother, Thomas Segali of Monterey, Robert Little Jr. of Carmel, Michael Largent of Pacific Grove and Lowell Battcher of Upland.

Mrs. Segali welcomed guests attired in a light jade green ensemble, with which she wore a green veil topped with sprays of lily of the valley. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mrs. Clayton attended her son's wedding in a sapphire blue suit with matching accessories and pinned a corsage of white carnations and stephanotis to her handbag.

Masses of flowers, repeating the church decorations and the bouquets of the bridal party, adorned the Monterey Elks Club for the reception which followed. Some 400 guests congratulated the newlyweds, later enjoyed a buffet luncheon and dancing to the music of Mike Marotta's orchestra.

When the couple return from a wedding trip to Southern California, they will make their home in Palo Alto, where the bridegroom will be in charge of a new crafts program at nearby Mountain View High School.

The new Mrs. Segali attended Monterey High School and is a 1966 graduate of the Uinversity of the Pacific, where she was president of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She has also done postgraduate work at Golden Gate College in San Francisco.

Her husband, a former student body president of Carmel High School, received his B.A. and M.A. degrees as well as a general secondary teaching credential from Fresno State College, where he was affiliated with Epsilon Pi Tau fraternity.

Claire Low Wed Saturday

Carmel Mission Basilica was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Claire Marie Low, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Low of Carmel, to Dennis Le Roy Owens of Pacific Grove. The Reverend Roger J. Dieudonne officiated at the afternoon nuptial mass.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a day-length, A-line dress of white silk, with a short illusion veil covering her hair. Her old-fashioned bouquet was a mixture of white roses and carnations.

Annette Low, her sister's maid of honor, was attired in an A-line frock of pale blue, complemented by the nosegay of multicolored carnations she carried.

Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother, Gregory Owens, and Eric Low, the bride's brother, assisted guests to their seats.

Following the ceremony, members of the wedding party and the family gathered at the Lows' home on Ridgewood Road to toast the future happiness of the newlyweds before they left for a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe. On their return, the young couple will make their home in Pacific Grove.

Claire, who is the sister also of Robert and Noelle Low, attended Santa Catalina School for Girls and Kramer School for Secretaries. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lioud of Caen, France, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Low of Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Owens Jr. of Bakersfield witnessed their son's wedding, as did his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Woodside of Redwood City and Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Owens of Hillsborough. Among other family members present was his sister, Priscilla Owens.

An employee of Safeway Stores, the benedict attended Monterey High School, Monterey Peninsula College and the U. S. Coast Guard Training Center at Groton, Connecticut.

Ensign Durein Prefers West

Ensign John Durein is stationed aboard the destroyer USS Ault, which is presently being refitted at the Charleston Navy Yard. John flew to the Mediterranean to join his ship, whose home port is Mayport, Florida. He writes that although he enjoys his travels, the East Coast seems a flat swamp in comparison to California. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Durein of Hatton Fields Mesa, John graduated from Carmel High School and, last year, from UC Berkeley.

For friends who would like to write, his address is USS Ault, D.D. (689), New York City 09501.

Donna Durein, who graduated from Chico State College in June, is living in Paris, where she is enrolled in French studies at the Alliance Francaise.

Busy Time For Candidate

Gerald V. Barron, candidate for U. S. Congress from the 12th Congressional District, spent a busy weekend at the San Luis Obispo County Fair, where, he remarked, he "met over 4,000 people" as he stood before the Democratic booth and presented his newsletter to fair goers. Mr. Barron was accompanied by his wife, Betty, and daughter, Mary.

Saturday evening, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Petrucci at a buffet supper in Atascadero to meet a large group of their hosts' friends. Before returning to Carmel, the Barrons attended the Swiss picnic Sunday in Greenfield.

Raggetts In New Home

After 20 years in Carmel, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raggett have moved to a new home on Ronda Road in Pebble Beach. This week, they are entertaining Mark's sister, Mrs. J. H. Hesselberg of San Mateo, and her daughters, Janis and Roselyn. Labor Day weekend will be a particularly busy one for the Raggets—Mark, vice commodore of the Stillwater Yacht Club, is in charge of the annual Labor Day Regatta which draws entrants from all over the state.

Wins Altrusa Prize

Margaret Mason was glad she was one of those who accepted the invitation, extended by Julia Minor to employees of the Carmel Pine Cone, to the tea and silent auction held by the Altrusa Club at Casa Estrada last Sunday for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

"I couldn't believe my ears when Dorothy Stevens, president of Altrusa, called out the lucky number for the door prize," Margaret said. She won an exquisite all wool hand-hooked round rug of blue and white Shildcraft pattern, which took Norma Frances Cohn, past president of Altrusa, three months to make. "The rug was truly a grand present," added Margaret, "since tomorrow is my birthday."

Second door prize was a painting "Sovereign of the Sea."

A Wedding In San Rafael

Susan Marie Franz of San Rafael became the bride of Maynard Kingdon Tescher Jr. of Carmel at St. Sylvester's Catholic Church in San Rafael on Saturday. The couple exchanged wedding vows before the Reverend John Tierney at a noon Nuptial Mass.

Susan, the daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Franz and the late Mr. Franz of San Rafael, was given in marriage by her grandfather, Carl L. Franz. Her simple bridal gown of ivory silk linen was full length, its deep hemline embellished with heavy cotton lace. She carried a bouquet of daisies and bouvardia and a traditional white veil covered her hair.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Karen Franz, and Maureen Donavan, Susan Tescher, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Gerald Crowe. They wore identical gowns of blue linen and carried arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Christopher Tescher of Carmel served as his brother's best man. Seating guests were Michael McGibney of Carmel, Michael Kuimelic and Richard Malloy.

After a reception at the Loch Lomond Yacht Club in San Rafael, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Colorado Springs. They will make their home in Belvedere when they return.

The new Mrs. Tescher has three other sisters, Mary, Janet and Christine, and a brother, Mark. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Franz of Los Gatos and Mrs. Marie Mortigia of San Francisco. A graduate of Marin Catholic High School, she is her senior year at Dominican College.

The bridegroom's father is Maynard Kingdon Tescher of Denver, Colorado. Following graduation from St. Mary's College, Maynard has been engaged in graduate work at the University of San Francisco. He is employed in the sales promotion and public relations department of the Hertz company in San Francisco.

Writers Who Have Lived in Carmel

BY HERBERT HERON

Robinson Jeffers

One of the great poets of our time, Robinson Jeffers, was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, on January 10, 1887, of English-Irish stock. Both his father and mother were highly cultured, and young Jeffers learned the classics at a very early age. At five years old he was reading Greek. Before he was six he went with his parents to Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Italy: again to Europe when he was twelve. In boarding schools in Saxony and Switzerland, he swam in lakes and climbed mountains, building a foundation of strength and of love for the rugged outdoors.

At 15, he returned to America, to enter the University of Pennsylvania. He is said to have been able to think in Italian, French, and German. He also thought very well in English!

A year later his family moved to California where young Jeffers first saw the Pacific, so important to his writing and his actual life. He earned a B.A. degree at Occidental College then studied medicine at the University of Southern California, where he stood first in his class. He was a long distance runner, and did much swimming and canoeing.

At the University of Southern California, he met Una Call Kuster, with whom he fell in love. But Una was married, and it was not till six years later, after her divorce from Edward Kuster, that they could be married. Meantime he entered the University of Washington, where he studied forestry, later returning to Southern California.

In 1912 he inherited a legacy from a grandfather and was able to pay for the printing of his first book of poems, Flagons and Apples. He then went back to the University of Washington. Five hundred copies of Flagons and Apples were printed. Twenty were given away. The rest were sold for almost nothing to Jones' secondhand bookstore, where they were put on the bargain table at ten cents a copy. They didn't sell.

In August, 1913, in Tacoma, Washington, Robin and the lovely Una were married. They planned to live in Europe and Greece, but World War I changed their plans, and they came to Carmel in August of 1914. Here they lived in a log cabin on North Lincoln Street for some time, until they secured the wide land touching the coast on Carmel Point where they spent the rest of their lives. Here Jeffers built Tor House, and later Hawk Tower out of granite boulders with his own hands.

In 1916 his second book, Californians, was published by MacMillan. Years of great happiness followed in the wild and simple beauty of the Carmel coast and hills. Twin sons, Donnan and Garth, were born in 1916, and grew up in the rare atmosphere of Tor House and its windswept surroundings.

In 1924 Tamar and Other Poems were published in a small edition. It made an impression. Readers saw in it a new and strong writer of verse. Some of them looked for his earlier work, so Jones raised the price of Flagons and Apples to 25 cents. They sold. He raised the price to 50 cents. They kept on selling. A copy in fine condition today would bring around $35. (It's not worth it, except to collectors.)

For some 15 years after settling in Carmel, the Jeffers family did little traveling, but in 1929 they went to Ireland, where they spent a year. Afterwards they went sometimes to Taos, New Mexico, for summer vacations. In 1941, Robinson Jeffers inaugurated a series of poetry readings in the Library of Congress in Washington. But it was in Carmel that he wrote the books which placed him in the front rank of American poets. He won the Book Club Award for distinguished work in 1937, the Borestone Mountain Poetry Award in 1955, and the Academy of American Poets Award in 1958.

Una Jeffers died in September, 1950. The period between her passing and Jeffers' own death on January 20, 1962, was one of deep sorrow for the poet. This is wonderfully expressed in the introduction to Hungerfield. The tragic beauty and intensity of these pages make an elegy rarely equalled.

Among his poetical works are four plays: The Tower Beyond Tragedy, which had its world premiere in the Forest Theater in 1941 with Judith Anderson as Clytemnestra. Then Medea, first produced in New York with the same star. This was a financial as well as an artistic success, enabling Jeffers to live in a comfort he cared little about; but nevertheless it was a great tribute to his genius and the deathlessness of true poetic drama. Medea was later staged in the Forest Theater with Ruth Warshawsky in the title role. This superb production was another highlight in our outdoor community theater. Dear Judas was produced in New York, but was not a great success. The Cretan Woman was also staged in New York.

There are many books concerned with Jeffers and more are in the making. The Life of Robinson Jeffers and The Collected Correspondence of Robinson Jeffers are slated for publication in the near future.

Donnan Jeffers lives in Tor House with his wife and four children. Garth Jeffers and his wife live in Susanville. They have seven children. So the name, as well as the reputation of our great poet is not likely to die out.

His published works include: Flagons and Apples, 1912; Californians, 1916; Tamar and Other Poems, 1924; Roan Stallion, Tamar and Other Poems, 1925; The Women at Point Sur, 1927; Poems, 1928; An Artist, 1928; Cawdor and Other Poems, 1928; Dear Judas and Other Poems, 1929; Stars, 1930; Apology for Bad Dreams, 1930; Descent to the Dead, 1931.

Thurso's Landing and Other Poems, 1932; Give Your Heart to the Hawks and Other Poems, 1933; Solstice and Other Poems, 1935; Such Counsels You Gave to Me and Other Poems, 1937; Selected Poetry, 1938; Two Consolations, 1940; Be Angry at the Sun, 1941; Medea, 1946; The Double Axe and Other Poems, 1948; Poetry, Gongorism and a Thousand Years, 1949; De Rerum Vertute, 1953; Hungerfield and Other Poems, 1954; Visits to Ireland (with diaries by Una, Donnan and Garth Jeffers), 1954; The Loving Shepherdess, with nine original etchings by Jean Kellogg of Carmel Highlands, 1955.

Themes in my Poems, 1956; The Beginning and the End, 1963; Not Man Apart, published by the Sierra Club with photographs in color and black and white by Ansel Adams, Morley Baer, Wynn Bullock, Steve Crouch, William E. Garnett, Philip Hyde, Eliot Porter, Cole Weston, Edward Weston, Don Worth, Cedric Wright, and others, 1965.

Red Cross To Issue Blood Credit Cards

The Red Cross has adopted a new blood credit plan for the Four County Regional Blood Center which serves the Carmel area, according to Carl Bosholm, chairman of the Carmel chapter.

Under this plan anyone donating blood at regular Bloodmobile drawings will receive a credit card, good for one year, entitling the donor and spouse, their children under 18 years old or, if they are unable themselves to give blood, over 18, also parents, parents-in-law and grandparents of both husband and wife, to any blood they may use during a 12-month period.

The next Bloodmobile drawing in Carmel will be on September 1 from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the chapter house, Eighth and Dolores. The new credit card will be issued to all donors.

Persons who have previously donated a gallon or more of blood will be given a credit card good for the duration of the Red Cross blood program. Also, gallon donors may, each time they give additional blood, designate someone not already protected, to be the recipient of a credit card.

Another feature of the new plan is group coverage. A group of 20 or more in an organization may enroll and each receive a credit card, provided 20% of the group donate blood each year.

The Red Cross will continue to meet the blood needs of emergency and "hardship" cases irrespective of the recipient's coverage.

WHAT'S THE PRICE OF GAS?

In a recent survey, only one half of all drivers buying gasoline in Virginia knew within one cent how much they were paying per gallon. Only about 35 per cent came within one cent of knowing what the total state and federal gasoline tax was, and only 15 per cent were that close on the amount of the federal tax. Men drivers were twice as price and tax conscious as women.

7,000 recreation areas for only $7. That's the way Operation Golden Eagle works. With this plan, you and your family can visit all our Federal recreation areas—from Yellowstone Park to the Gettysburg Battlefield—and the only admission fee you pay is $7 annually. That's a great bargain—and it all goes to help conservation. Be a Golden Eagle family, write to OPERATION GOLDEN EAGLE, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Box 7763, Washington, D.C., 20044.

SO NOW IT'S VENISON FOR DINNER

Not so very long ago, hunting was serious business and decided when and how the family would eat. What our ancestors did of necessity is now done for the thrill of the chase. Deer season has come and, as summer wears thin, it is with anticipation that the huntsman's favored friends look forward to some of his dressed game.

All varieties of antlered animals are correctly called venison, however in these parts it is generally known as wild deer. All lead an active and giddy life so that if a young buck is tough, an old buck is sure to be tougher. Connoisseurs argue whether to hang, thump, hack, grind or mince their quota. Some would beat their prize into submission (from a culinary viewpoint). "Long hanging helps," one hears where sportsmen assemble. "But we wives dislike the high flavor!" is the counter-argument. "Slow long cooking drains the last drop of good juice," is another often heard remark. What's the answer?

The modern satisfactory way to deal with venison is to prepare it with meat tenderizer. This insures meat that is juicy and full of natural flavor, yet retains that gamy taste so essential to hunting epicures. As with beef, the choicest and most tender cuts of venison are the chops and steaks. Prepare the steaks according to directions on bottle of meat tenderizer. With venison, even more than beefsteak, the less the steak is cooked the better. With such a treat in store, what more exciting way to show off the trophy from the wilds than serving it planked? Let's go all aboard for venison steak on a board. Nothing with such deserving dash could be simpler. Just slip the broiled steaks onto a heated plank with indentation to catch the precious juices underneath. The decorative piping of mashed potatoes further seals in these juices and provides a framework for the bright splash of garden vegetables garnishing the richly browned western venison.

GOURMET VENISON STEAK DINNER
(Serves 6)

Two (2 lbs. each) venison steaks; 6 parboiled onions; 3 firm quartered tomatoes; 6 huge sauteed mushroom caps; instant mashed potatoes; 3 tbsps. melted butter; 2 tsps. fresh lemon juice; ½ tsp. prepared mustard; 1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce; watercress.

Broil steaks and arrange vegetables around venison. Pipe mashed potatoes around edges of oiled board in a frilly design. Top steaks with lemon juice, prepared mustard and Worcestershire. If seasoned tenderizer has been used, do not add salt or pepper. Sprinkle the melted butter over vegetables and steaks. Run the board under a broiler to make everything piping hot and the potatoes slightly burned looking. Decorate with watercress. Hide the chili sauce and catsup: they don't belong in this game company. Cut steaks with the sharpest of blades across the grain in generous diagonal slices. Top off with a green salad mixed with cold crisply cooked green and wax stringbeans dressed with a sharp vinaigrette. Pass a lavish cheese board with fresh cherries. Red wine and black coffee and perhaps liqueurs. How de luxe!

In the Hartz Mountains of Germany one sings the praises of their canaries and venison with equal fervor. The bright yellow birds are only for pets, of course, and the deer for hunting and superb fare. Over there, chefs soak a haunch of venison in buttermilk for three days to tenderize.

ROAST HAUNCH OF VENISON
(Serves 6)

Five to seven lb. leg of venison; strips of bacon or salt pork; 2 cups dry red wine; ½ cup salad oil; 2 crushed bay leaves; 2 minced cloves garlic; 1 tsp. crumbled rosemary; ½ tsp. freshly ground black pepper; 1 tsp. dry mustard. Make marinade of these last 7 ingredients.

Drain off buttermilk; rub surface with salt if bacon is used. Place on rack in roasting pan; cover with strips of bacon or salt pork; roast in preheated oven set at 450 F. for about 35 minutes. Baste with the wine marinade during roasting. Roast another 20 minutes with heat reduced to 325 F. Venison should be rare. Place on hot platter, add any leftover marinade to pan drippings, after removing grease; thicken sauce with balls of butter and flour kneaded together. Pour into gravy boat; serve hot.

Prepare a combination of squash in season such as sliced boiled zucchini, crookneck and summer squash, seasoned with paprika, instant minced onions, salt, dried or fresh dill and cracked black pepper. Drain and gently toss with sour cream. Keep hot over candle warmer.

If you care to add a salad, Carmel Coleslaw is delightfully crisp. Combine equal amounts of shredded green and red cabbage with 1 tbsp. grated raw red onion; add unpeeled cubes of red apples at the last moment to make a crunchy slaw. Dress with mayonnaise thinned with vinegar or lemon juice. Serve icy.

HONEY WINE FRUIT COMPOTE
(Serves 6)

Three-quarters cup honey; 3/4 cup California port wine; 3 tbsps. lemon juice; grated lemon rind; 6 peeled huge fresh peach halves poached in honey, port, lemon juice and rind until just tender. Cool and drain fruit. Place a peach half in each compote dish. Put vanilla ice-cream onto each half and pour honey-port sauce over all. Serve at once with sliced pound cake.

We have been taking succinct cues from "Going Wild in the Kitchen" by Gertrude Parke. Henry Williams gave us this instructive book and has a supply in his book shop, The Wells, on Ocean in Carmel and at Carmel Rancho shopping center. We shall be quoting from this valuable source of information during the coming hunting season. So now au revoir with this short recipe of Gertrude Parke's.

VENISONBURGERS

Ground venison; salt and freshly ground pepper; thyme, fresh-chopped or dried; dry red wine; sourdough rolls, halved and toasted.

Use tougher parts and/or scraps of deer meat; season, pour on wine and let stand overnight. When ready to cook, shape into patties. Broil over charcoal grill. Serve on buttered toasted buns.

The new all-in-one Bar. B. Q oven and smoker "Casa. Q" for outdoor and indoor charcoal cuisine is available at l'Entrepot in the Pine Inn complex. Another "must" for hunters' wives!

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

With so much stress being laid upon the reading process in today's high speed society, any new book on the subject is of great interest to the reading public. Professor Miles Tinker was for 32 years a teacher of psychology at the University of Minnesota. He has recently completed a book on reading from the psychological and physiological aspects. He called it BASES FOR EFFECTIVE READING, and it is itself based upon the research he did over those 32 years. He discusses reading not from the standpoint of eye movements, but also from that of the printed page, its color, legibility of type, and even the surface of the paper. There is more to this rapid reading than just speed.

On the jacket blurb the author is listed as Eric Berne of the Langly Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute, the title page lists him as Eric Berne of the McAuley Neuropsychiatric Institute of San Francisco, but people hereabouts know him as Dr. Eric Berne of Carmel. This book is entitled PRINCIPLES OF GROUP TREATMENT. Dr. Berne says that this book deals with group treatment rather than group therapy and these these two approaches are quite different. Speaking as a librarian who is a full-blooded idiot in matters psychiatric, I take comfort in the doctor's statement that psychiatric therapists "would salute the relaxed or 'cowboy' therapist who has permission to be happy himself and can transmit this license to his patients."

Along somewhat the same line, we have this week GERIATRIC PSYCHIATRY: GRIEF, LOSS, AND THE EMOTIONAL DISORDERS IN THE AGING PROCESS, by Dr. Martin Berezin. It may be this is not a book for the layman who just happens to be growing older and to be slightly miserable. It may be that this is really a book for doctors and their ilk. But we have it anyway and if you are having problems, read this book in here and there bits and see if it seems helpful. If the answer is yes, read it in depth.

Building with adobe bricks is a specialized kind of building and Marcia Southwick has done a small book on the subject. It is entitled BUILD WITH ADOBE, and it is illustrated with many photographs. It also has specific instructions on how to build frames for forming and drying adobe bricks. With this book you can start from mere mud and go on from there to construct your own dream house.

SCULPTURE WITH SIMPLE MATERIALS by the Sunset Magazine editorial staff is a small book which contains instructions for making many types of sculpture from junk you find about the house. The difficulty about things of this kind is that the final result after looks like junk and the pictures in this book prove the point. What you must do is to find out the how from this book and then produce something really beautiful.

HOMEMAKING FOR THE HANDICAPPED by Elizabeth May is a book which could be heaven-sent for any handicapped person faced with a desire to be self-sufficient. There are hundreds of pictures showing equipment of every kind to help the handicapped person to do the things which will make him happy and to feel fulfilled. The first chapter is called "Where There's A Will" and that must be the first premise. This is a good and helpful book.

So the fog hangs on. But every foggy day brings us nearer to our second summer. Remember how lovely it is in September and October? Read a book and forget the weather.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of this week's Bible Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science church services on Sunday.

The Golden Text is a verse from I Thessalonians: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

Episodes from each of the four Gospels will be read, covering different aspects of the life of Jesus, accompanied by selections from the denominational textbook, including these lines:

"Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage . . . It was the divine Principle of all real being which he taught and practiced . . . We must forsake the foundation of material systems, however time-honored, if we would gain the Christ as our only Saviour" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

$176 Million Shared

California's cities and counties shared $176 million in motor vehicle license fees during the 1965-66 fiscal year.

The money, which may be used by cities and counties for general public purposes, takes the place of local property taxes on vehicles.

VICTROLA IS PURCHASED

Though still somewhat short of the amount to purchase the victrola for Sunset School, the committee in charge of the matter decided, last week, to buy the machine and the splendid instrument is now here. The house of Sherman and Clay has made generous terms for the payment of the balance due.

The committee is still in need of $20 and is depending on those who have not yet contributed to make up this deficiency. The Pine Cone will receive contributions of money for the victrola and for records.

ENCOURAGE THE KIDDIES

The remarkable success attending the private performance of a play and burlesque at the Forest Theater by the Star Theatre Club has resulted in the decision to repeat the program on Saturday evening.

The entire net receipts from the affair are to be donated to the Carmel Public Library to be used for the children's department.

The Star Theatre Club is an organization of children whose object is to write, stage and play performances entirely by themselves.

Carmel is, and will be for years to come, a community of the drama. What better than we should encourage and develop the rising generations of players?

Those who will take part in the coming presentation are Grace Wickham, Phyllis Overstreet, Philip and Margaret Williams, Elizabeth and Maryan Hopper, Inez Fraties and Helen and Hilda Hilliard.

CARMEL GOLF LINKS

With the golfing season in full swing, the management of the scenically beautiful Carmel links has decided to inaugurate a handicap tournament. Despite all the disadvantages under which the management is laboring, the Carmel Golf Course has proved a success. The enterprise is worthy of more support from Carmel's permanent residents.

FOREST THEATER

The Forest Theater Society desires the membership of everyone interested in its objects and aims. There is no initiation fee and annual dues are the nominal sum of $1.

The Forest Theater is one of Carmel's greatest advertising features and brings not only a high class of summer people here to occupy our cottages and fill our hotels, but makes business for every commercial house in town and gives employment to those who work. Show that you appreciate what the Forest Theater means to Carmel.

To all who helped make this our banner theatrical year, the Forest Theater Society expresses thanks. The summer has been remarkably successful both artistically and financially. The society will be well able to stand on its feet in a business way hereafter.

Boost for a bigger summer in 1917.

BIG BEET

'Berned-Over Freud'

Carmelites were interested to see one of their number, Dr. Eric Berne, pictured and written about in Life magazine Close-Up feature spread last week.

Dr. Berne has garnered international recognition with his latest book, Games People Play, which has remained on the best-seller list for well over a year and broken all previous nonfiction best-seller records. Planned as a textbook on transactional analysis, Dr. Berne's clever expositions and names for the games he says people unconsciously play between their parent, adult and child relationships, have caught the reading public's fancy in this country and abroad.

Dr. Berne first lived in Carmel when he was stationed with the U. S. Army at Fort Ord. He returned to make his permanent home here at the war's end. He divides weekdays between his Carmel psychiatric practice and practice and consultant work in San Francisco. Weekends he spends in Carmel where he relaxes by swimming, running and sunning on Reamer's Beach on Carmel Point.

The book was written in his study, a little wooden building on Carpenter Street.

The Life feature shows him at work in this study, also in his new Carmel house, the former Fratessa home in Hatton Fields, and playing poker with Carmel friends. In respect to the latter, Howard Bucquet, glimpsed in the Life picture, told the Carmel Rotary Club last week he won $78 in the game.

In Games People Play, Dr. Berne says the keys to a happy life are the ability to say "Yes," "No" and "Wow!" Carmelites are in the position to say the latter when they contemplate the renown this resident has brought the city. "Berned-over Freud" is how Life describes his transactional analysis form of psychiatry.

Letter To Editor

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

I am writing in regard to your drama critic as I find myself unable to understand her reviews of the Golden Bough Players.

I attend many performances around the East Bay because I do a lot of directing for a small theatre group. I find that the majority of little theatre productions are very poor. I find I am very critical and after enumerating all the things they do wrong, I am pleased that the Tribune critics, Mickelson and Powers, justify my views.

But I have yet to see a poor production at the Circle Theatre in the past two years I have been coming to Carmel.

I know that the Carmel Pine Cone is in the homes of the majority of residents and after listening to their comments, it seems to me the theatre would do better if you didn't review it at all. It's good the other papers in the vicinity don't echo your views.

Last week, I almost missed an enjoyable evening because of your review of "An Italian Straw Hat." The poorest part was the chorus which was praised, I hope with tongue in cheek.

It was deep regret I felt when Mr. (Fred) Rider and Mr. (Nick) Zanides left for other theatrical endeavors. But after seeing Mr. (Norman) McPhee's outstanding direction of "The Rainmaker," I realized the theatre is in good hands.

But unless the Pine Cone and the Carmel residents support the Circle Theatre, I can see it following in the footsteps of San Mateo's Circle Theatre, San Francisco's Actors Workshop and Berkeley's Melody Land.

Sincerely,
Mrs. V. Christensen,
Director Of Theatre
Arts Guild

EXPRESSES THANKS

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

Will you please publish thanks to your police department, also the fire department for their emergency ambulance and drivers, and to the Town House and Sands Motel for all their help when my husband, Martin J. Blagg, became very ill on August 7 while we were weekending in Carmel.

The efficiency of their help and extreme kindness to me is something to be praised and applauded.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Martin Blagg

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

All of you who lived during World War II remember all the shortages. A recent article brought out that we only have three shortages now—skilled labor, money, and guitar strings. I wish that third item hadn't been in a nationally syndicated column. Somebody's liable to start a new federal office to expedite the production of guitar strings. First thing you know the government will be spending millions on the guitar string problem and nothing on the real problem, some of the persons who play them.

The shortage of money is something else again. The strong industrial growth in plant expansion and automation around the world has taken about all of the world's savings. The big insurance companies and banks just don't have enough supply of lendable money to meet the demand. The resulting fight for money is causing the borrowers to try and outbid each other for loans. The high bidder gets the money.

This month a young growing computing firm decided it could get money by issuing 6% bonds; but nobody would buy the bonds. It kept raising the interest clear up to over 8% before anybody would give it money for its bonds. Southern California Edison, one of the nation's best utilities, had to pay over 6% this week for money to expand its business. At some point these interest rates are going to get so high that borrowers will slow down and wait for interest rates to come down. Most experts think this will take six months to a year. Many think that there have to be signs that interest rates will stop going up before stocks will go up. As the instiutional buyers haven't seen those signs yet, they haven't been buying. So the market has been going down from a lack of buying interest, not from heavy institutional selling.

Let's not complain about the drop; lets take advantage of it and buy some good quality stocks while they're down. You don't find bargains when all the news is good.

Kiwanis Club Rummage Sale

Members of the Carmel Kiwanis Club are completing arrangements for their annual fund-raising Rummage Sale, which will be held this year in the former cafeteria at Sunset Center on September 3. Ken Dyer, sale chairman, reports more new merchandise, contributed by several Carmel businessmen, will be available this year as well as many used but useful items.

Kiwanis members are eager to collect more good rummage from residents of the Carmel area and will pick up each morning for the next week. A telephone call to Charles Marcolli (624-3711) will bring a truck to the door of anyone wishing to donate items.

At their regular meeting last week, Kiwanians heard interesting reports on the travels of Tom Spencer, recently returned from Africa, and Harold Reliford, who visited South America.

New Youth Leadership In Carmel

BY WENDY GRISSIM

"I could write a book on it!" enthusiastically exclaimed Carmel High School senior Jerri Stoneson. "The social experience was invaluable," declared Steve Meadows, also of Carmel High School. Juniors Brian Cronwall and Jean Hudleson, in discussing the Red Cross-sponsored leadership conference which the four students recently attended, wholeheartedly agreed with them.

Chosen, because of their outstanding leadership abilities, to represent Carmel High in the annual statewide conference at the University of California at Davis, the foursome returned Sunday after seven days, fresh with new insights and ideas for their school and community.

Organized several years ago by the Red Cross, the conference is primarily a development center for potential leaders, where they learn the elements of effective group leadership. The 57 students who attended were divided the first day into five groups, each of which conducted its own sessions. Daily discussion ranged from humanitarian ideals to interpersonal relationships and community needs.

"The group discussions were particularly effective," remarked Steve. "Meeting students from all over the state provided us with new ideas on old problems. We realized that there is no ideal situation, so we discussed solutions based on existing facts."

Guest speakers lectured at the general assemblies, where "never throw out an idea unless it is completely evaluated" became the unofficial motto of the conference.

Before returning home, the students were expected to have formulated one humanitarian program which can be applied in their respective communities, and be prepared to organize a volunteer group in their own high schools to utilize this program.

Aside from seminars, the students enjoyed dances and various group skits. To the four Carmel High students, the conference was a great success, and all of them expressed the desire for more such conferences to be organized locally.

"We all hated to leave at the end," Jerri remarked wistfully, "but I think that the boys and girls who went to the conference returned home as young men and women."

HACIENDA CARMEL —

Under an Anchorage, Alaska, dateline comes word that Hacienda Carmel's George Salter has now done what few, if any, businessmen golfers have done. He has now played golf at least once in each of the 50 states of the U.S.A. His latest performance took place at the Moose Run Club in the Anchorage area.

Mr. Salter finished off his 49th state on a recent tour of Eastern states. Those who know him were sure that Alaska would have to "fall" soon. It now has, putting the "fait accompli" to a hobby pursued through 55 years of golfing.

The Anchorage Daily Times is credited with reporting Mr. Salter's unique accomplishment. His home club is Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club, according to Hal Wright, publicity chairman.

Carmel Valley

On September 13 the fall term of the Painting Class starts in the craftroom at 9:30 a.m. under the direction of Mrs. Alice Jean Small. Mrs. Small has taught at the University of Washington and the University of West Virginia. She was director of the Art Federation Settlement in New York City; head of the Department of Arts and Design in Tampa, Florida; regional director, Far East Arts and Crafts, U. S. Army, Tokyo, and similar positions under the U. S. Army in Europe and Mexico.

CANTERBURY WOODS
Pacific Grove

The Writers Group at Canterbury Woods is busy collecting articles and pictures for an anthology now in the process of being compiled and, hopefully, to be published in November. This anthology is to be assembled by residents and will contain creative work or residents. Mrs. Lillian Grace Paca, author of several books, is chairman of the Writers Group.

One of the members of this group is Mrs. Laura J. Larson, who was given third prize in a recent poetry contest.

PINPOINT PROFILES

The heading for this story could be Eleven Years Manning A Forest Fire Lookout, or Botany And Its Many Phases, or Social Service Work in the Early Thirties.

Dr. and Mrs. Ferdinand W. Haasis, formerly of Carmel and now living in Canterbury Woods, have much to tell of their useful and productive lives. Both of them are still active physically and mentally, each with his own work to do, and they both stick to a fairly rigid daily program.

Born in Brooklyn, New York, Dr. Haasis received his Ph.D. degree from Johns Hopkins University—but his professional training also included University of California, Yale and Rutgers. He taught in the department of plant physiology, Johns Hopkins University, 1926-28, and the school of forestry, University of Idaho, 1928-30. In later years he has enjoyed working with elementary schoolchildren in our area, programming outdoor science educational studies.

Since 1921, Dr. Haasis has been listed in "American Men of Science" and "Who's Who and What." He has authored or co-authored some 50 papers in professional fields.

"However, some of the most satisfying years of our lives were spent at the Sid Ormsbee Fire Lookout Station, located on Pinyon Peak. It was very nice. We were on duty seven months of the year and off five," he says.

Some years ago, Dr. Haasis formed a group of men hikers. Recently they have recruited several more men from Canterbury Woods. You will see them taking their fortnightly "constituional" — hiking five miles, sometimes ten miles a day.

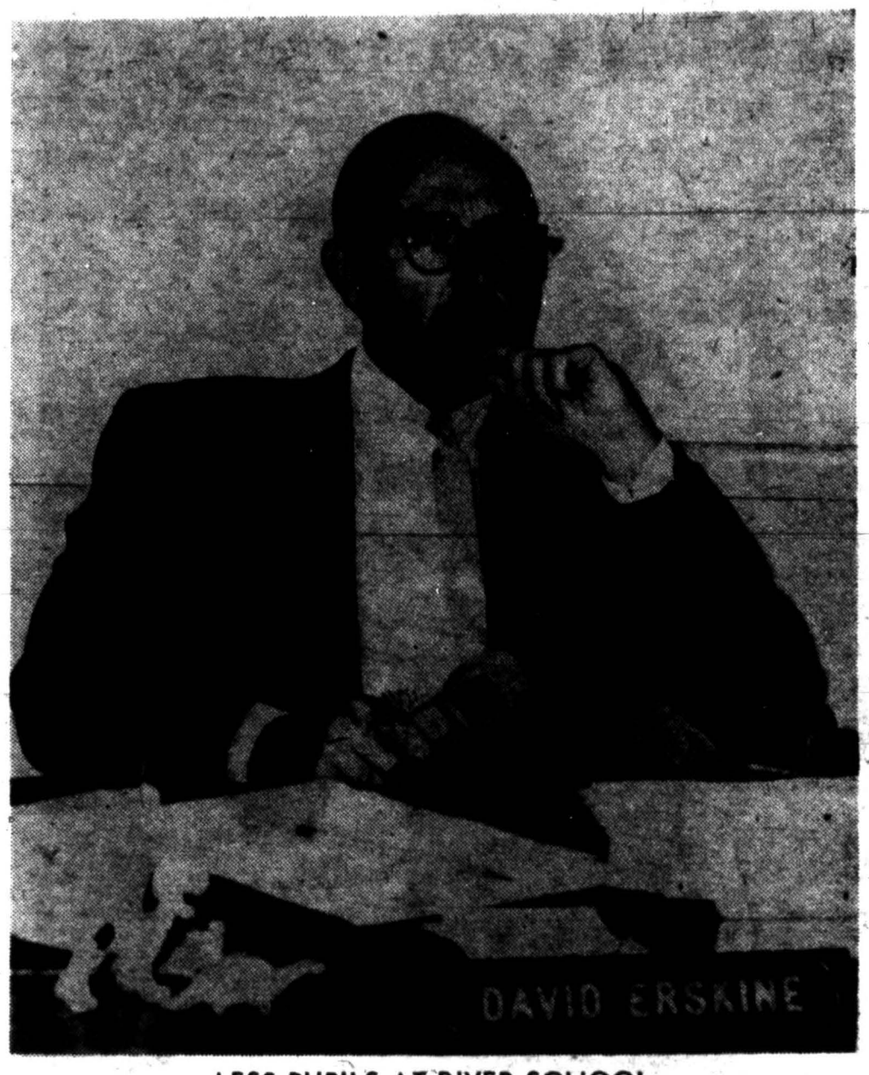
Mrs. Bessie Haasis, born in New York State, is a graduate of Smith College. After graduation she took up nursing as a career, later changing to social service work. It was during this time she met Dr. Haasis in a Kentucky mining town. Shortly afterwards they were married.

For the past 10 years, Mrs. Haasis has been working with a group of women in Carmel. Their main project is transcribing text books into Braille for the visually handicapped children in Monterey schools. This proved to be most satisfying and rewarding work.

The day finally came, however, when Mrs. Haasis found it difficult to meet deadlines. Therefore, she has now transferred her efforts to doing Braille work for a state library in the Middle West. In this work, the time element does not matter so much. The group she headed in Carmel is still carrying on under the leadership of Mrs. Edythe Dallas.

We were shown the beautiful herbarium speciments that Dr. Haasis is now collecting and preparing for the National Arboretum of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They are a work of art when framed. Oh yes, he also paints!

I think we can find an object lesson in the Haasises' story. To continue to be healthy and vital one should keep going and not just rest on one's laurels.



LESS PUPILS AT RIVER SCHOOL

Principal David Erskine of River School expects a drop in enrollment at this K-4 grade school in September. The anticipated decrease will be the result of the board of education's decision to have Pebble Beach, Rancho Rio Vista and Carmel Knolls children attend other schools in the district. Last year 380 pupils were enrolled at River. The ungraded program pioneered last year will be in full effect this year at River. With the help of parents, hot lunches will be served in the cafeteria. Also planned is to have lunches eaten outdoors whenever possible. A group of parents has donated their time to assemble benches for this project. Mr. Erskine, again with the help of parents, hopes to acquire an outdoor classroom for nature study this year at River. He emphasizes that the reading program last year, proved "strong" by testing, will be continued this year. At River School in the coming year will be a special class for pupils diagnosed as having perceptual or neurological problems which affect reading progress.

Aid For Home Sales

In today's tight money market, which has materially slowed home buying, owners with real estate for sale may be well advised to consider giving personal financial assistance to qualified buyers.

Those who want to sell now, when banks and savings and loan associations are short of mortgage money, should consider taking back a purchase money mortgage. With the right buyer, such personal financing could go as high as 70% or 80% of the purchase price.

When an expensive home stands vacant, the maintenance costs, taxes and interest on the investment mount up rapidly. One rule of thumb indicates that carrying charges for a house are about 1% a month. That means that an unoccupied property costs the owner 12% a year. If the owner can effect a sale by taking back a purchase money mortgage which pays him 6%, he will be 18% better off than when he was carrying the empty house.

When mortgage money becomes more plentiful, and available at lower cost, the purchase money mortgage could be refinanced with an institution.

NOT FOR MILLIONAIRES

We have no objection to millionaires; in fact, we like them and have plenty of other houses for the "carriage trade". But, these two are for folks like the majority of us.

For example, that wonderful family home at 66 OLIVER RD., MISSION FIELDS. Perfect for folks who take pride in home ownership, want to be near schools, like congenial neighbors and know how to be a good neighbor, and believe in the old American tradition of thrift. This immaculate, modern three bedroom home originally listed at $27,500 was well worth that price. But, the out-of-town owners realize the money market prohibits the average buyer from paying that sum so they have reduced the price to $26,500 and have indicated they would consider $26,000 from a "qualified buyer". If you are "qualified" and if you are thrifty you will not overlook this opportunity. Financing can be discussed in the office. Call for an appointment.

Then, if you are a dreamer of dreams and one of those dreams has been of owning an older CARMEL HOUSE OF CHARM, one West of San Carlos and South of Ocean Ave., we offer a rambling house with two bedrooms, beamed Cathedral ceilings, and beautiful landscaping for only $32,500. Do not ask for exact location so you can "drive by" because it is occupied by the perfect tenant whose privacy must be respected. Call for an appointment and come to the office to discuss details. You might want it for week-ends only or you might want to make some improvements for full time occupancy. Regardless of the various alternatives, we are sure you will want this house if you have dreamed of owning an older typically Carmel house within easy walking distance of the beach and village.

Bus Routes Restored

board will be pleased with the knowledge that the amount allocated will allow the district to reinstate the 1965-1966 program," Dr. Harris stated.

He added that the additional $4,200 would in no way affect the educational program of the district.

The board unanimously approved a motion by Trustee Steven Sassoon that its policy of providing transportation for all pupils living more than two miles from any school be reinstated for the additional sum specified. His motion also included transportation for pupils living less than two miles from a school where safety factors warrant bus service.

Dr. Harris stated that bus routes would follow those of last year as closely as possible following study of safety factors. There might, however, be changes in bus stop locations for the purposes of efficiency. Exact bus routes will be presented by the administration for board approval as soon as possible.

Dr. Harris prefaced his request for reorganization of the high school library by saying, "The first thing that struck me was the inadequacy of the facility into which the book collection was jammed—inadequacy of building capacity for the number of pupils."

He gained board approval to place some of the library facilities in a room in the music building in order to provide enough space to conduct an adequate library program. This additional library facility will be staffed by an elementary library secretary transferred from the instructional materials center on Middle School campus who will work under the direction of Miss Eleanor Crouch. Dr. Harris indicated that, at present, he is of the opinion this will mean no additional cost to the district except possibly one day's labor for moving library stacks.

"The new arrangement will be better for the students, allow independent study, more research and permit increased educational effort. It will be a great return for a small investment," Dr. Harris emphasized.

He pointed out, however, that this was only a "stopgap" solution for a library program that is not good and will have to be solved sometime.

His approved request for eight minimum school days during the coming school year will allow teachers to participate in inservice training. Dr. Taylor also reported that the present "almost wartime" shortage has resulted in a delay of delivery of pre-stressed building material for Carmelo School library. He estimated that construction will not be completed before November 1.

The board denied the request of Donald Crosby to have his daughter attend River School kindergarten. He lives in an area of Pebble Beach which lies with the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District. Although Mr. Crosby offered to pay the difference in cost entailed by the interdistrict attendance, the board, except for Dr. Hilton Bialek, was unwilling to establish a precedent, especially when it had not been ascertained whether it is legal to accept such reimbursement.

Mr. Crosby, a Carmel businessman, stated that he paid $500 a year in taxes to the Carmel district and felt his request should be granted.

Editor's Column

"How far does Carmel want to control the Peninsula?" This is a statement attributed to Wright Fisher in a recent newspaper article. He was referring to Admiral Fisher's efforts as president of the Carmel Citizens Committee to contain the Highway One freeway extension plans.

Carmel isn't interested in controlling the Monterey Peninsula. As a matter of fact it is our understanding that members of the Carmel Citizen's Committee are interested only in holding the freeway extension at the top of Carmel Hill. I think they are entitled to make efforts in this direction. They are not concerned with the area the other side of Carmel Hill toward Monterey or Fort Ord.

Now that the subject has been brought up in this manner, it is interesting to notice that the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce board of directors' tabling of opposition to further freeway construction appears to be in direct opposition to the City of Monterey's desires. It is interesting to recall that on July 25, Monterey Mayor Minnie D. Coyle wrote to State Senator Fred Farr and Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee as follows:

"Under discussion at the Council Meeting held on July 19, 1966, the City Council directed me to ask you if you would introduce and work for passage of legislation to stop the existing freeway just north of the top of Carmel Hill.

Your cooperation to this request will be greatly appreciated."

Below are printed two letters which seem to indicate that Alan G. Pattee and Donald Grunsky are sympathetic to Admiral Fisher's views on restricting local freeway activities.

The evidence seems to indicate that someone has changed their mind—not that Carmel wants to control the Peninsula.

Dear Admiral Fisher:

Thank you for your letter on the freeway situation on the Monterey Peninsula. I shall be glad to introduce the legislation in January but I do feel we are in for a bitter fight in committee because the Highway Commission will oppose it vigorously. I shall at that time need all the backing of your committee and for that matter, statewide backing for this legislation.

My best to everybody.

Sincerely,
Alan G. Pattee

Dear Admiral Fisher:

I have your letter of August 12th and hasten to state that I am opposed to any additional freeways or other multi-lane high speed roads on the Monterey Peninsula. It has always been my understanding that it was the wish and would serve the best interest of the people of the Monterey Peninsula if all of our roads in that area were kept within the limits of "scenic highways".

Please be assured that if I am successful in my campaign to represent the people of our beautiful Monterey Peninsula, I will be responsive to the requests of my constituents in that area as to matters directly affecting and of interest to them.

I will be pleased to meet with you and other members of your Carmel Citizens Committee regarding these important problems at any time that can be arranged between us.

Sincerely yours,
Donald L. Grunsky

T. A. R. ORGANIZATION

Monterey Peninsula Teenage Republicans are preparing for the November election battle. Organized in a manner similar to the Green Berets, the T.A.R. group will work in highly Democratic areas in order to convince the voters that they should vote for the better men and not a straight ticket. The headquarters of a T.A.R. special forces unit in action in opposition territory will be known as the Special Forces Operation Base (SFOB). It will perform all the basic functions of a regular unit headquarters — personnel, intelligence, operations and supply. There will be one special forces unit called an A team for each city in the Peninsula. Local A team captains are Julie Shope, Pebble Beach; Scott Sinclair, Carmel Valley; and Zack Miller, Carmel-Big Sur.
